Samir and the Brids

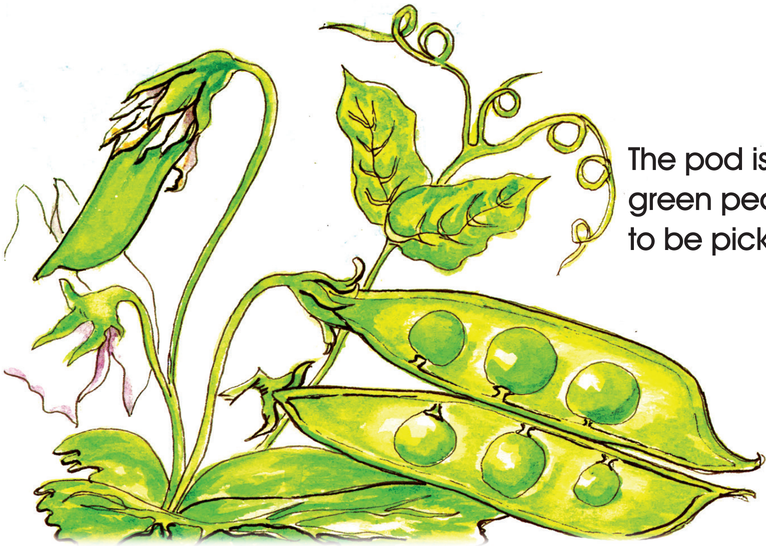

The Magic Paintbrush

Samir and the Brids

A beautiful, bright green pea-pod is growing in the sunshine in a field full of pea-vines.

The pod is full of juicy, fat, bright green peas that are nearly ready to be picked.

A hungry caterpillar has found its way into the pod and is eating the juicy bright green peas inside.

A bird sees the caterpillar, flies down and swallows it whole.

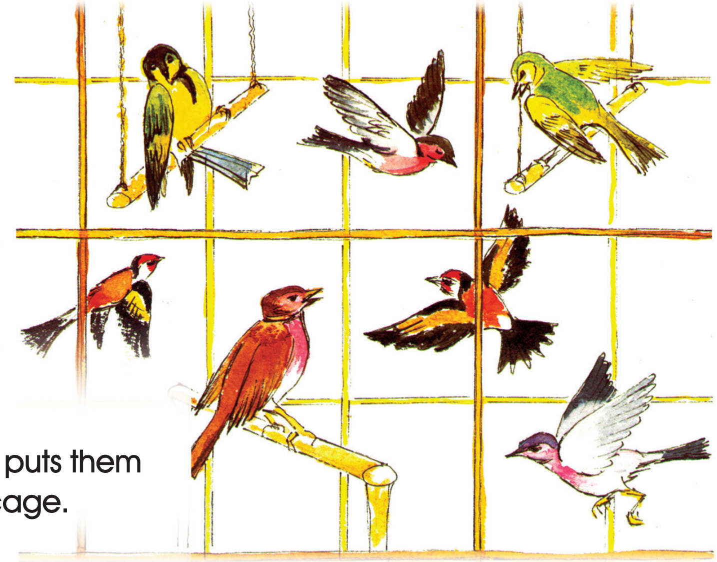

Samir, who likes birds, catches the bird.

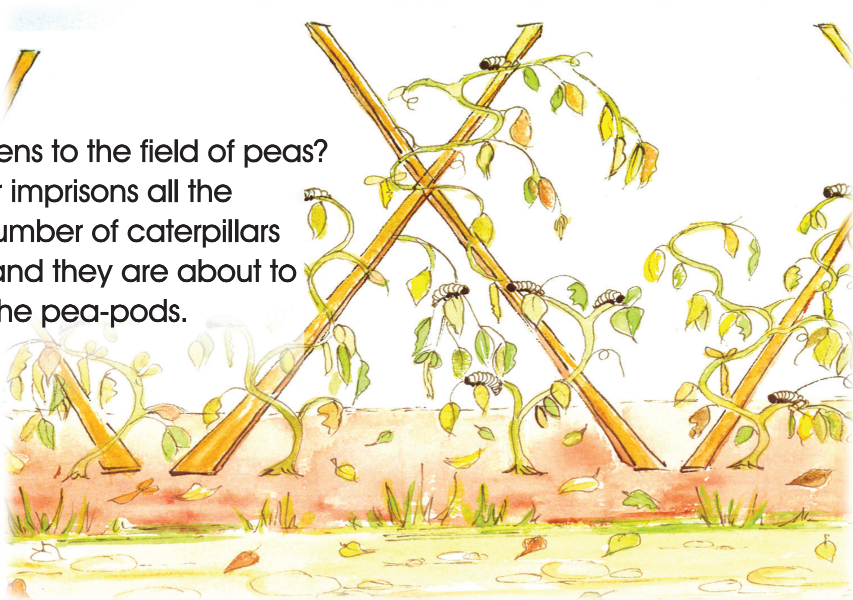

…and puts it in a cage.

He catches all the birds in the field of peas,…

… and puts them
in the cage.

What happens to the field of peas?
When Samir imprisons all the birds, the number of caterpillars increases, and they are about to destroy all the pea-pods.

Samir's mother looks at the field, and says to him, "Come on, Samir! Release the birds. Let them fly again and eat all the caterpillars." Samir agrees, and does exactly what his mother has said.

The field of peas is bright green and beautiful once again.

The Magic Paintbrush

I will paint a duck.

The duck flew off the paper.
Wow! A magic paintbrush!

She painted a cow for the farmer.

She painted toys for the poor children.

The king heard about her.
Bring Rose here with her paintbrush.
Paint me lots of money!
No, I won't.
Send her to jail.
In the jail, Rose painted a key and a horse to escape.

The king chased after her.

Rose painted a big hole.

The king fell into the hole.

Today, Rose uses her magic paintbrush to help people who really need her help.

Read and put the events in order.

- (1) Once upon a time, there was a poor girl.
- ( ) An old woman gave her a paintbrush and some paper.
